

THE SMARTEST WAY OF TAKING CARE

Every year, poor medical adherence costs to EU 125 billion. And the life of your beloved ones worth much more.

Mindy is a smart device, that can eliminate your tension as a caregiver of someone who has to follow a oral pill therapy, by dispensing the right pill at the right time to this person, with a customisable notification system. You'll also be notified by push notifications if the pill has been taken or not.

Moreover, Mindy has a special slot that can be taken out the device and brought away whenever the user want to stay out for a few time: the device will automatically fulfil the slot with the pills that should be taken during the time set.
